What kinds of issues and problems are there in the world today?

What kinds of things do you think would make a difference?

If you want to, write down some of the issues you, your family or friends face.

What can you do to help?